

Statement of Work:

Fred Cohen & Associates (FCA) will perform a Long-Term Future Security Architecture study for [CLIENT]. This will consist of the following items:

1. FCA personnel will work with CLIENT to gather information on long-term future vision and enterprise business function and operation. During these meetings, FCA will gather information from CLIENT necessary to understand enough about the CLIENT's future plans to start the idea generation process.
2. FCA will gather a team of approximately 5 top-flight experts in information protection and in the specialty area that CLIENT works in for a meeting in which ideas and specific needs will be identified, characteristics of the future of information other related technologies will be reviewed, and three workable sets of approaches will be identified for CLIENT ten-year future architecture.
3. A set of presentation slides will be developed that overview the three approaches to ten-year security architecture and they will be provided to the CLIENT along with a telephonic or in-person presentation of the slides. CLIENT then selects one of these visions for detailing.
4. FCA will create an in-depth presentation of the CLIENT-selected architecture and provide this presentation to CLIENT along with a telephonic or in-person presentation of the results.
5. If minor revisions are desired, they will be provided over a period of 7 days at no added cost.

Additional terms and conditions:

- Single Point of Contact: CLIENT will provide FCA with a single point of contact (SPOC) to coordinate all efforts associated with this task and that SPOC will be authorized and able to provide all necessary information.
- Liability limitations: CLIENT indemnifies FCA and holds FCA harmless for all costs and consequences, whether direct or indirect, arising out of this effort, in all jurisdictions, in all forms, and in all cases.
- Best efforts: FCA will undertake best efforts to perform its tasks using the most suitable available technologies in a manner consistent with current usage, methodologies, techniques, and knowledge, however, because of the ever changing nature of the security, technology, business, regulatory, and physical environment, FCA MAKES NO WARRANTY, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, AS TO THE RESULTS OF THESE EFFORTS.
- Confidentiality: All CLIENT information is held in strictest confidence by FCA.
- Ownership of results: With the exception of the actual slides provided to CLIENT by FCA, all materials used in the performance of this effort are the intellectual property of FCA and will remain so.
